Town Meeting Set For Monday

With the question of obtaining a quorum uppermost in their minds, local officials will meet Friday afternoon to review the 12 warrant articles scheduled for action at the October town meeting set for Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium.

While controversy seems remote at the annual October session, there are items needing the attention of the voters and it is hoped that the necessary 350 registered voters will be on hand when the gavel is brought down by Moderator William Dalton.

Lacking a quorum Monday night, it seems possible the agenda items will be deferred to the annual town meeting in the spring. Selectman Chairman Milton Greenberg indicated such at this week's meeting, when he said the expense of conducting the session could well be saved by postponing action until March.

There are items of importance, if not controversial, including the continued once-a-day train service to Boston by the MBTA, now offered at a cost of $15,000.

Also, in the warrant, are payment of unpaid bills, consideration of a change in school committee membership and terms, rezoning of land off South Main street and some bylaw changes.

In accordance with a new bylaw approved at the annual town meeting this year, the finance committee is making available its recommendations in a report filed at the town clerk's office, Memorial Hall library and at the auditorium the night of the meeting.

In abbreviated form the main items facing the Monday session, along with selectmen and Fin Com recommendations include:

MBTA Service

The once-a-day commuter train to Boston is approved by both boards, following a visit a week ago by a representative of the MBTA who explained that the town's cost would be $15,000, rather than the $32,000 as previously indicated.

The representative is also to provide the town with a proposal of increased train service to the Hub which could result in the town and cities of Haverhill and Lawrence receiving the service at no additional cost.

The MBTA would like an answer from the town by Oct. 15.

Meter Reader

The selectmen and FinCom were at odds on the appointment of an additional water meter reader. The FinCom is recommending disapproval of additional funds for an added person in the water department.

The selectmen, however, acting on the recommendation of Town Manager J. Maynard Austin will provide a temporary solution by adding a person for this service through federal Emergency Employment Act funds.

The town is to receive $13,000 in addition to other EEA funds and this will be applied to providing a water meter reader to keep the department records up to date.

The request for a car for the use of the meter man, remains in doubt. Selectmen approve the expenditure, FinCom disapproves.

Other Agenda Items

Unpaid bills: Selectmen, FinCom approve

Establish parking fines: Selectmen approve.

Pilferage of recyclable items bylaw: Selectmen approve.

Traffic lights Lowell, Beacon street: Selectmen, FinCom approve.

Greenwood Road land exchange: Selectmen, planning board approve, conservation commission to report.

Merrimack Valley Home Care Corp.: Selectmen, FinCom approve.

School committee increase to seven members: Selectmen, FinCom take no position.

South Main street apartment rezoning: Planning board disapproves.

Recall of elected officials bylaw: To be withdrawn.

School Board To Retain Own Counsel

By Linda S. Corbett

The position of School Committee Counsel was created by the Andover School Committee Tuesday night by a 3-1 vote, with Committeeman William Lane dissenting.

Such counsel was recommended by Atty. James Murphy, who had been special counsel for the School Committee in the Lane-open meeting court case, and would serve much as Town Counsel Alfred Daniels serves the Town, handing down legal opinions when requested and going to court for the group when necessary.

The committee then instructed Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert to report back where the funds for the counsel could come from. State statute provides that a school committee can hire its own counsel up to the tune of $5000 in a school year, without special approval by Town Meeting.

Chairman Francis Griggs suggested that the monies could come from Deerjump Program funds which were provided in the school budget, but for which the town has been reimbursed.

Lane objected to the new counsel "unless someone can show me that the town counsel is not doing his job." He said that the town counsel could coordinate legal matters a lot better between the town and the school system, than could an additional person.

The counsel would act when called upon, much like the professional negotiator, rather than being a full-time employee of the schools.

By way of school personnel action, and after much ado, the committee accepted the resignations of Mrs. Barbara Mitton, a teacher aide at West Elementary, effective October 22; of Mrs. Virginia Spinney, fourth grade teacher at West Elementary, effective October 18; and of Mrs. Edna Wilton, teacher aide at South Elementary, effective last June, all for "personal" reasons.

Committeeman George Olesen objected, on the grounds that the teacher's contract provides that no resignations are to be accepted after Aug. 1, to be effective before the end of the ensuing school year, unless for specific reasons provided by the contract, stressed the inconvenience such action causes on the part of the children and said that having their classroom experience disrupted can have a devastating effect on them, "long-range."

An Olesen motion to request the Andover Education Association to take action as provided by its contract, in the case of Mrs. Spinney, was defeated 2-2, with Griggs and Lane voting "no."

Griggs indicated that the youngsters were probably better off with someone in the classroom who wants to teach, and allowed that personal reasons sometimes could preclude a teacher from doing a good job.

A subsequent motion by Lane, to have the AEA screen future such resignations for possible action, was passed by a 4-0 vote.

In other personnel action, the committee granted Mrs. Norma Mafomber, a coordinator and fifth and sixth grade teacher at West Elementary, a leave of absence from Oct. 22 through July, 1975.

Appointed as a special needs teacher at East Jr. High, despite Committeeman George Olesen's insinuations that "the way to get a teaching job in Andover is first to become a volunteer and then a teacher's

At Least Eight Seek Vacancy On School Committee

The Andover School Committee, meeting Tuesday night for the first time since the resignation of John G. Wragg September 17, authorized Chairman Francis E. Griggs to officially notify the board of selectmen of the vacancy.

Griggs said the letter - - the first step in the process provided by law - - would be forthcoming within the next couple of days.

Statute requires that the school committee notify the board within 30 days of a vacancy, or the board can fill the vacancy themselves. Granted proper notice, the two committees will meet in joint session to elect someone to serve in Wragg's place until next March's Town election.

The decision must be a majority one, with five of the nine possible votes necessary to elect a replacement, and Griggs indicated Tuesday night that they could conceivably vote over and over until election time.

Meanwhile, Griggs said eight

Planners Reject Apartment Zone

The Andover planning board will give an adverse report to town meeting Monday night on the proposed rezoning of acreage on South Main street for apartment units.

The board unanimously rejected the proposal following a hearing on the matter Monday night at which over 50 residents of the area were recorded in opposition.

The plan, presented by Colonial Drive Acres Realty Trust, through Atty. Thomas J. Tavenner, calls for an additional 294 units to be added to the apartment complex already existing.

There will be 70 additional buildings.

Comments presented by those in opposition were centered on the fact that the area is zoned single residential and that only a South Main street access road leads to the proposed expanded complex.

There was concern also for extension of utility lines to the

Housing Authority In Audit

The annual audit of the Andover Housing Authority is in progress, State Auditor Thaddeus Buczko has announced.

After the Authority's accounts are examined, a full report of the results will be issued.

The Authority operates a 56 unit veterans project and an 80 unit project for the elderly.

Rents from the veterans project amounted to $60,265.21 while the Authority collected $43,488.94 from its elderly housing.

In the veterans project, monthly rents average $101.80 and in the elderly project, it averages $46.34.

Since the Authority began operating in 1952, the state has contributed $1,781,000 in subsidies to the projects.

Because of the comparatively low rentals charged in veterans and elderly housing projects, the subsidies the Authority receives keep the Authority from operating at a deficit.

The Authority employs four full-time employees and has an annual payroll of $17,909.

New England's per capita consumption of heating oil is three and one-half time that of the national average, the Massachusetts Audubon Society reports.

Storm Raises Havoc

Some people are convinced that a baby twister passed through the area about 5 p.m. Sunday, others, including weather forecasters chalk it up to a violent thunder storm.

Whatever the case, by about 6 p.m. Sunday, public works and power company crews in the area were busy mopping up the damage, clearing away downed branches and restoring power in many sections of the communities.

Dark ominous clouds preceded the storm which struck quickly and intensely with brilliant flashes of lightning followed almost innediately by giant claps of thunder. The rain just gushed down turning streets to veritable rivers in some areas.

Two Andover homes were struck by lightning, one on Bailey road, another on Brady loop. Early Sunday evening, fire fighters were called to Charlotte Drive to check on some wires apparently burned by the storm in a home.

Andover public works department crews were out for some time during the evening hours, clearing away downed branches and limbs in various sections of town.

Heaviest damage appeared to be in the Salem street area and in the direction of Harold Parker State Forest.

A swath of damage, slight but significant, led one observer to conclude that possibly a baby twister had hit the area at the height of the storm.

The path of damage to trees and utility lines seemed to follow from an area of Lowell Junction to a point near the Andover Fish and Game club in the Harold Parker Forest where the effects of the high winds dissipated.

Downed wires and tree limbs were also a part of the storm's aftermath in North Andover.

In addition to power company crews restoring power in many sections of the town, highway and tree department crews were on duty clearing roadways of debris and catch basins were the torrents of surface water were bypassing the system.

Fire department officials checked on some homes where reports of lightning striking were investigated. No serious damage was reported.

A downed power line on Merrimack street forced the area to be blocked off for safety purposes until power company crews could arrive to make necessary repairs.

The deluge also had an effect on the new high school playing fields, where drainage problerms have damaged the embankment in storms, due to the bankings not having had an opportunity to get established as yet.

Math Test Scores Are Reviewed By Schoolmen

Andover youngsters scored above the national norms on all the math tests they took last spring - - according to Stanford Achievement Test results released by Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert Tuesday night.

While tagging the results "very satisfactory," Seifert indicated that the schools would start working on computation skills, which weren't as high as the math concepts and application categories.

Members of the school committee, while expressing initial optimism, are also interested in seeing some other comparisons.

Chairman Francis Griggs, who admitted he was "much more pleased" with what's been happening mathwise in the system in the past year, said he wants to correlate the 1973 with the 1963 tests, to see how well the kids would have done on the old test. This was the first year for the new one.

He also asked Seifert to come back with more information on local, rather than national norms, to see how Andover compares to other systems in the area.

Committeeman John Lyons asked that the results, released in "grade equivalents," be presented in percentiles at the next meeting, for ease in comparison. George Olesen, while saying it was "quite obvious the results look very favorable when looking at them system wide," said he thought the results of individual schools should also be published.

Seifert said that the next step now would be to go into each individual school to see what they propose to do to improve scores where needed.

In releasing the scores, Seifert explained that they come from the publishers as grade equivalents along with national norms. A score of 1.9, for instance, means the youngsters' average proficiency was at the first grade, ninth month, level.

He also said that the Stanford Company said that a differential of less than .5 from the national norm could be considered average, but not significant. On the other hand, a score of more than .5 could be termed "significant."

Grade 1

Math Concepts: National Norm - 1.9 (First grade, ninth month); Andover - 3.0 (Third grade)

Computation: Norm - 1.9; Andover - 2.7.

Compputation: Norm - 8.9; Andover - 9.9.

Application: Norm - 8.9; Andover - 10.3.

Total Math: Norm - 8.9; Andover - 10.1.

In answer to the question why total math scores could be higher than any of the three tests which make up the total, Associate Superintendent Harry Westcott explained that averages aren't averaged, but that all the scores are totalled. He likened it to a decathalon, where one could come in second or third in several events and still win the decathalon.

Newman Seeking Support For Change In School Board

While he didn't get an endorsement from the School Committee at its last session, as he had hoped, Atty. Irving L. Newman, 33 Lovejoy Road, is still seeking support for an article which could enlarge the school committee to seven members, with shorter terms.

Newman is the author of Article 11 on the warrant for the upcoming town meeting, and he touts it as a possible answer to "polarization" of school philosophies.

He warned that already, "power brokers on both sides are girding their fighting forces" to obtain the single school committee seat that will be vacant in March.

At the outset of Newman's presentation to the school committee, he said that the article was in no way directed "at any member, his philosophy, his competence or his conduct in office."

"These matters," he said, "are germane only in another forum and time, namely, in February when members should run for re-election."

Newman says that by following his plan, the school committee could create permanent subcommittees and broader representation. Shorter terms, he said, would bring about a better balance between stability and to the community demands.

"Our educators, both staff and administrators are faced with a knowledge explosion which they must translate into curriculum," he went on, "compounded by socio-economic issues which have made the schools the arena for bitter battles which have no place there.

"To this must be added the abdication of parental authority and religious guidance. We expect the staff to address itself to all these problems and solve them. If Mankind can not solve them, how do we expect a staff which is very limited in scope to accomplish its objectives as well as solve all problems?

"To make this situation more improbable is the fact that we expect a five-man school committee, meeting twice a month, in the evening, to manage the school system with its burgeoning problems and escalating complexities.

"The formation of permanent subcommittees, with no decision-making authority could make studies in depth, enabling the committee to obtain an independent judgment and expertise which is so sadly lacking."

A two-year, instead of a three year term, Newman went on, would enable the town to change the complexion of the committee to be consistent "with individual objectives" as to the education of children, "and still obtain stability."

"It can be conceded that the Andover schools are beseiged by an overwhelming number of problems as variable as the children it educates and as complex as the community it serves. It is apparent that one answer to all problems is in error, and those who manage policy as well as administrate it should be flexible and open-minded in their approach. However, educational policy in Andover has been dominated in the main by two groups who are in terrible conflict with one another politically as well as in educational concept. Each has hardened its approach to education and imposed its views on the community as each group attained a majority on the committee."

Newman said that in the 17 years from 1956 through 1972, the committee has been dominated by the so-called "liberal group" 13 times, but in the past two years, by the so-called "conservative group," all living in Precinct 4.

He said the result was that "dissent and constructive criticism have been effectively squashed," and that where many voices should be heard, only two have been allowed.

Looking forward to the February election, Newman said that "the 'power brokers' on both sides will have a field day as they manipulate this community. This new 'politics of confrontation' will extinguish reason, decency, respect for one another and independence of opinion as polarization deepens and widens.

"This must be avoided and stopped now. To continue this madness would be at the terrible expense of our most precious asset, our children, and the delicate fabric of our community will certainly be torn to shreds."

Fall means foliage. But after you enjoy looking at colorful leaves on the trees, they fall to the streets, where after a rainstorm they become a driving hazard, so slow down on leaf-covered wet pavements.

COMPOST SHREDDER—GRINDER

MODELS PRICED FROM $149.95

Produce rich compost using nature's own sources. Turn tree prunings into topsoil mulch for shrubbery and flower beds. Grind leaves and other garden waste to decompose quickly into valuable humus fertilizer, thus re-cycling waste organic materials back to the soil. This positively improves soil conditions and helps in growing stronger and more healthful crops. This is the method used by professional gardeners the world over; good compost means a good garden. The finer your materials are ground up, the more quickly they decompose in compost, and the neater they look as top mulch. These units can also reduce the volume of your rubbish by shredding or grinding paper, tin and alumimun beverage cans, cardboard or plastic bottles, and even the limbs up to 1½" in diameter.

We also have a complete line of lawn vacuums, leaf blowers, and wood shredder-clippers. Models for home and commercial use.

THE NEW

Elander & Swanton
MEN'S WEAR

Albert A. Chadwick
President

Men's wear has undergone a remarkable transformation in the past few years. And, there has been a change in the organization of Elander & Swanton's, too.

Now under the ownership of Albert A. Chadwick, we are developing a new direction for this men's store established 68 years ago in Andover by the late Carl Elander.

Our long established clientele has long looked to us for traditional men's wear. Yet, new generations have other ideas to be catered to. So we have plotted a course down the middle and you will find that the new Elander & Swanton's now has what you want when you want it. We are not embracing the lively new fashions fully nor are we forsaking the traditional men's wear still favored by many.

You will also note a new store spirit along with the new lines we now feature and more we will announce in the near future.

When the subject is men's and young men's wear . . . try the new Elander & Swanton's. We want to be liked and are out to prove it to you.

Community School Response Increases

The Recreation / Community Schools Department has announced the 1974 Fall program registration statistics.

The enrichment, academic and recreation program has received the largest registration since the programs' inception two years ago. Two indications of the registration success of the 1974 Fall Program is that 97 per cent of the 73 classes offered received the minimum registration requirement and 52 per cent of the 73 classes received maximum enrollment.

The department's best registration had been an 82 per cent class minimum registration rate with 12 per cent filled. These figures do not include those classes such as elementary gymnastics which maintain an open registration. Anyone interested in those classes remaining open should call the Recreation / Community Schools office for further information.

Registration took place at Sanborn, Shawsheen, West Junior and East Junior this term. West Junior High and East Junior High had the largest number of people come in to register.

The department has maintained its effort to spread the program throughout the community by offering classes at the neighborhood schools. Seven of the nine public schools are presently being used in the program.

While some schools lend themselves better than others, the department has tried to make the most advantageous use of all facilities as possible, keeping in mind the year-round demands for school department public usage of the buildings, all of which is arranged by the Recreation / Community Schools Department.

The Fall Program, which began the week of Sept. 16, will officially end the week of Nov. 18. Any class not held at the regularly scheduled time during the 10 weeks, will be made up at the end of the program.

The Department will be offering another set of 10 week classes in the Winter Program which will start in mid-January. A primary goal being responsiveness to community needs and interests, the Department welcomes all suggestions for new classes and programs. During the next few months the Recreation / Community Schools Department will be making a continued effort to respond to the various requests it has received.

The reactor has been adapted for cars, using 18 percent water and 82 percent gasoline.

Camporee At Deer Jump On Weekend

The Shawsheen District Fall Camporee of the Boy Scouts of America will be held at Deer Jump Reservation at Fish Brook in Andover, beginning Friday and concluding Sunday. More than 300 boys in 18 troops are expected to participate.

Purpose of the camporee is to develop the patrol method of camping and scouting.

Saturday night there will be awards presented at the campfire for the patrol that best exemplifies the theme.

The Camporee staff consists of the top Boy Scout leaders from the troops in the Shawsheen District under the leadership of Lane Porter and Mark Manley.

Recycling will become increasingly important for economic growth and as a solution to solid waste problems. The re-use of materials eventually may become comparable to that of a stable ecosystem which requires the complete recycling of nutrients, the Massachusetts Audubon Society points out.

Announcing some Big Telephone News for the Lawrence area.

New England Telephone's totally new computerized Electronic Switching System will go into service Saturday, October 12th, for customers in Lawrence, Methuen and North Andover.

What it will mean to you is this: Starting October 12th, when you pick up your phone to make a call, you will hear a new dial tone. Don't worry, your phone is not out of order. It's simply a different tone.

Secondly, you will have to dial all 7 digits—the complete listed number—when making a local call. The old method of dialing 5 digits is no longer in effect. There are many modern telephone services that will be available because of this great new system. We'll be telling you about them later.

But for now, remember: you're going to hear a new dial tone; you're going to have to dial 7 digits on local calls.

Labor Group In Support Of Cronin

The National Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, AFL-CIO has joined to support the re-election of Congressman Paul Cronin.

In making the endorsement, MEBA President Calhoun stated, "In his two years in Congress, Paul Cronin has been a hard-working friend and supporter not only of the maritime worker but of all workers of America. Our support of his re-election is well deserved."

Congressman Cronin said upon receiving the endorsement, "I am very pleased with this indication of support. I have always had the concerns of the working people of the 5th District and the United States uppermost in my mind both in voting for and initiating legislation. This support serves to endorse those concerns."

Other Cronin labor endorsements include the Lawrence Central Labor Council; the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, Local 187; the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners; and the United Transportation Union.

The first drop ever in Oregon state park tourism occurred in 1973, say state transportation division officials. They blamed the decrease on the gas shortage.

The Andover Campaign

The three candidates seeking the all-Andover representative seat in the state legislature continued their personal touch campaigns this week and are preparing for local forums, including the League of Women Voters Candidate's Night scheduled for Oct. 29.

The Andover League of Women Voters is also planning to issue a question form for the candidates to respond to prior to the candidate's night.

Republican Candidate Roger W. Collins announced this week his intention to co-file a measure to limit the legislature's ability to impose higher costs on cities and towns.

Collins said it is much too easy for the state to force new expenses on cities and towns and thus take away from communities local control over the tax rate.

"All it takes is a simple majority vote in the legislature. I'm supporting a constitutional amendment that would require a two-thirds vote to impose costs on two or more communities unless the state is willing to put up the money or the town has already voted to accept the expense.

"The so-called home rule amendment only protects single towns. The legislature can get around it by simply making any costly bill apply to two or more communities."

Noting that the bill is not a new one, Collins said the legislative leadership has kept the bill from getting on the constitutional convention agenda.

The Republican candidate will be the speaker at the Christ Church forum this Sunday at 10:20 a.m.

In other activity this week, Collins has been continuing his door-to-door campaigning and has been appearing on Main street meeting residents. He has attended coffees and had a couple of staff meetings during the week.

Independent Candidate Atty. John P. Cronin will have a fund raiser at the Andover Country Club Friday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

He reports that he has received a favorable response to the affair.

Other campaign activity has included a talk to a Pike school group and a luncheon with some local business people to discuss issues and listen to some of their concerns.

Cronin is also continuing his personal campaign, using a bicycle to visit particularly the outlying areas and meet the voters.

This past weekend he was busy in the West Andover area.

Democratic candidate Atty. Gerald Cohen this week introduced a 24-hour telephone answering service in an effort to make himself more available to the voters. He promises a return call within a day.

Today, Atty. Cohen is attending a state Advisory Council meeting in Boston and on Friday will be attending a 766 Update meeting at the state Department of Education.

Saturday and Sunday he is planning a two day telethon contacting 5000 homes with his "Jerry Cohen Listens," portion of his campaign.

House coffees are scheduled for next Tuesday and on Wednesday, he will be at his campaign office all day for questions and answers.

Electric Co. Savings Dependent On F.E.A.

Guy W. Nichols, president and chief executive officer of New England Electric System, reports that the electric consumers of New England could be saved up to $700 million annually depending upon how the Federal Energy Administration (FEA) allocates lower cost domestic crude oil. Nichols made his remarks at the FEA's Rulemaking Hearings in Washington, D.C.

Speaking for the New England Power Pool (NEPOOL), Nichols indicated that the method of allocation favored by electric utilities in New England provides for the allocation of lower cost domestic crude oil to the importers of foreign oil. "Assuming that we can, by paying the appropriate fee, become the importer of record," he pointed out, "then this method of allocation comes closest to an equitable distribution of the economic impact of the oil shortage.

"It is well to point out," Nichols added, "that any savings the New England electric companies incur from any of the changes now under your consideration will automatically benefit all electric customers in our region through the operation of fuel adjustment clauses. A system of regulation is already in effect to assure this pass-through. I am not sure this claim can be made as emphatically for any other segment of the energy industry."

Nichols also pointed to the oil import fee program as another area where electric consumers in New England could be saved money. He pointed out that the import fee program was established to raise the price of imported oil and thereby encourage the development of our domestic oil operations. "The new program increased the fee as of May 1, 1973, to 15 cents per barrel and, at half-year intervals thereafter to the level of 63 cents per barrel effective Nov. 1, 1974," Nichols said.

"As of Nov. 1, 1974, the import fee will be 42 cents per barrel" he continued. "The higher fees are obviously no longer required as the OPEC nations have obviously provided a more than adequate economic incentive for developing domestic oil operations. For this reason we believe that import fees should be immediately abolished. If the present fee system is eliminated, the savings to New England can range from a minimum of $6 million per year at the present time to a minimum of $19 million per year starting late in 1975."

Bird Habits Subject Of Lecture

Doherty School students enjoyed a lecture on the winter feeding habits of birds. On Sept. 25 Miss Liza Chinton of Bryant Pond, Maine, presented a program to the fifth-graders showing the type of food necessary for each bird's survival, depending on the structure of its beak. An interesting part of the demonstration was the identification of birds from cartoon sketches.

Miss Clinton is a member of the staff of the Spruce Mountain Institute for Outdoor Education which was attended by students from the school last spring.

Plans are pending for this year's trip. Dates will be April 14-18 and April 28 to May 2. Teachers from Andover accompany students and cooperate with the staff in planning and directing activities.

"Arthritis causes more pain to more American women than any other disease," stated Philip K. Allen, President of the Massachusetts Chapter of The Arthritis Foundation, in announcing the publication of a new leaflet, "Arthritis In Women - A Case Of Discrimination."

"Over 580,000 people in Massachusetts are afflicted by various forms of arthritis," Mr. Allen noted.

The informative new leaflet, "Arthritis In Women - A Case Of Discrimination," is available free on request from the Massachusetts Chapter of The Arthritis Foundation, Box 2161, Boston, Mass. 02111.

The sources of wastes could be reduced by redesigning products for recycling and for longer usage, the Massachusetts Audubon Society points out. If auto tires lasted 100,000 miles, 75 percent fewer tires would be discarded annually.

Fellowship Of Athletes Meets

From a small Saturday morning prayer meeting a year ago by members of the Andover High football team, has grown a larger group of young adults at Andover High school, meeting weekly to discuss social-christian issues.

The group, now part of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, meets weekly in an Andover home, where parents provide refreshments, while the students discuss such things as what their roles are in the school, their obligations to the students and to the community.

The non-denominational gathering began last year when one of the members of the Andover High football team thought of the idea of the Satruday morning prayer meetings. The idea became popular among the team members and the group continued to grow.

Assisted by William Vickers, who acted as a leader or advisor, the popularity of the gathering continued beyond the football season at which time Vickers sent to the Fellowship of Christian Athletes for literature and tapes cut by well-known professional athletes.

Tom Landry, head coach of the Dallas Cowboys, heads the program nationally.

The weekly meetings continued after school hours and right through the summer.

With the opening of school this year, it was decided to hold the weekly sessions on Thursday nights for a one and one-half hour period.

Robert King, an assistant football coach at Andover High has joined Vickers with the leader or advisor role.

Serious discussion of various subjects makes up the agenda for the sessions, with the popularity attested to by the growing numbers of responsible student leaders joining the group weekly.

Andover Clergy Aid UNICEF

At a recent meeting of the Andover Clergy Association the members agreed to endorse community-wide support of this year's efforts on behalf of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

UNICEF has been providing food and medicine for the most needy children of our world for 27 years, however, the situation is so bad this year that it has caused the organization to declare a World Child Emergency. The Clergy Association hopes that Andover citizens will generously respond to this critical need.

For your convenience South Church, 41 Central Street in Andover is a distribution center for collection and promotion materials. Phone call reservations may be made between 9 a.m. - 3 p.m.

Religious groups, Scouts, school classes, civic organizations, businesses and individuals are urged to make plans to obtain these materials and help feed the children of the world by Trick or Treating for UNICEF.

Audubon Club

At the Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary Barn on Monday evening, Oct. 7 at 7:45 p.m. the Ipswich River Audubon Club will have an unusual program, "Bird Superstitions," given by Ed McDevitt of Georgetown. McDevitt has done continuing research on this fascinating subject. Everyone is welcome to attend. There is a fifty cent fee.

Andover Native Named Temporary Administrator

Rev. Stanley A. Smith, OSA
Temporary Administrator

Rev. Jerome A. Holland, OSA
Transfer Requested

An Andover native, Rev. Stanley A. Smith, O.S.A., has been appointed temporary administrator of St. Augustine's Parish, following the granting of a request for transfer by Rev. Jerome A. Holland, O.S.A., pastor since May of 1972.

Announcement of the changes was made at Masses on Sunday.

Father Holland, who had been a faculty member at Merrimack College for three and a half years, serving in the counseling center there, prior to his assuming the pastorate, informed his parishioners, in a letter, that he has "felt called to become involved in a ministray of social change. I am not sure what kind of work this will require of me, and so I have asked for a transfer to our house of studies in California.

"There I will investigate ways that my background in sociology, education and counselling can be called into most effective application."

Father Holland, a Lawrence native, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Holland, now residents of North Andover. He was ordained in the Augustinian order in 1954, and served as a guidance director at Archbishop Carroll High School in Washington, D.C. and was in the Augustinian Mission Band for 13 years prior to his assignment to Merrimack College.

He received a doctorate degree in pastoral counseling from Andover - Newton Theological Seminary in 1972.

The letter was inserted in the parish bulletin on Sunday and the announcement of Father Smith's appointment as temporary administrator was announced from the pulpit.

Rev. Henry Cassell, O.S.A., provincial superior of the order, made the appointment.

Father Smith is the son of Stanley and the late Mrs. Stanley Smith, and is a graduate of St. Augustine's School.

He attended Augustinian Academy and received his degree from Villanova University in 1957.

He studied in Rome and was ordained there in December of 1960.

He was an assistant at St. Mary's parish, Lawrence, before being assigned to St. Augustine's in August of 1972. His other assignments have included serving as chaplain at Archbishop Carroll High School in Washington, D.C.

Parochial Schools To Be Topic

St. Augustine's School Guild will sponsor a panel discussion on Thursday, Oct. 10, at 8 p.m. in the school hall. The topic to be discussed is "Parochial Schools of the Future."

The panel will consist of Rev. Eugene P. Sullivan, assistant superintendent of schools of the Archdiocese of Boston; Sister Paul Marie, CDP, a member of the team of superintendents from the archdiocese with particular scope of parish schools with lay teaching staff; Eugene Creedon, currently principal of Francis Packer; and Mrs. Catherine Buzzett of Andover, mother of 6 children who has had experience with different phases of parochial education in Texas, Alabama and Pennsylvania.

The public is invited to attend.

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Anne Paradis, chairman, and Mrs. Louise Arego, Mrs. Mary Aumais, Mrs. Claire Hamel and Mrs. Elinor Reilly.

Study Group Promises Sophisticated Report

The Andover School System Study Group, organized last spring with Dr. Matthew Cushing as moderator, promises to come forth with "some very sophisticated" reports by the end of the year, Dr. Cushing said this week.

He said the hope is to help cool off school controversies by publishing "the facts" on such subjects as curriculum, testing and evaluation, discipline, finance, goals, personnel policies, political action and division of responsibility.

There will always be protest marcher types, Dr. Cushing said, "but the vast majority of citizens can compromise between the little red schoolhouse on one hand and the vast, open classroom on the other."

Dr. Cushing said that most of the study groups have been "very ambitious" and did a lot of homework over the summer.

He said, however, that more members are needed for all the study topics, particularly curriculum and discipline.

Mrs. Henry Young, a member of the discipline group, put out an extra plea this week for more people. She said the committee has been touring the schools and that the experience has been "such an eye-opener," they feel frustrated that more people aren't going along.

Persons interested in that group, she said, could contact her at 9 Abbot St. Those interested in the other topics could call Dr. Cushing at his Main Street office.

Lowell Park Bill Gets Support

The House Subcommittee on National Parks and Recreation has reported the Lowell Urban Cultural Park bill to the full Interior Committee, Congressman Cronin announced recently. Following a mark-up session held last week, Cronin's Subcommittee unanimously voted to report the legislation.

"I am extremely pleased that my Subcommittee has acted so swiftly and favorably on this bill which is if great concern to the people of Lowell," the Congressman said, "and I am hopeful that we will see full Committee consideration before the House recess next month."

"The legislation establishes and funds a Commission to develop a plan in no more than two years for the urban cultural park and authorizes $150,000 of Federal funds to supplement and coordinate the extensive amount of local planning that has already been done," Cronin said. "For the first time the Federal government will join the state, local and private sectors in a cooperative venture to lend its expertise in recognizing Lowell's social, historic, and economic contributions as the birthplace of the American Industrial Revolution."

Motor Control Subject For Panel Discussion

If your child has trouble in speaking, writing, reading, expressing, thinking, communicating, organizing, etc., then your child may well have a learning disability. And if you are that parent, or a concerned teacher, you may be interested in this seasons first meeting of the Merrimack Valley Association for Children with Learning Disabilities. The program entitled "Recognitionof Motor Control Deficits - Their Evaluation and Corrective Training Programs", will be presented by a panel of four experienced Motor Control professionals. This meeting is scheduled for 7:45 at the West Elementary School, Beacon Street, Andover, on Monday, Oct. 7.

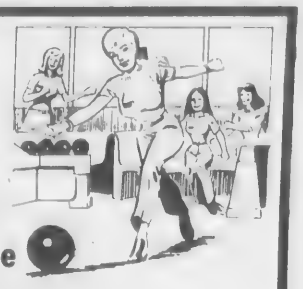

According to one of the panelists, Mrs. Rebecca Kenney, head of the Motor Training Department at Landmark School, Beverly, "About 99 per cent of the learning disabled have some form of a motor control problem." There are two kinds of motor controls - fine and gross. Fine motor controls involve the small muscles and gross motor controls involve the whole body. The problem is one of effeciency in organizing those small and large muscle groups in performing tasks with a minimum expenditure of time, effort and energy, and with maximum precision.

The other members of the panel, in addition to Mrs. Kenney, will be: Mrs. Beverly Cusick, registered phycical therapist; Mrs. Fay J. Kimball, registered occupational therapist; Dr. Harold Harrison, orthopedic surgeon on the staff of the Crippled Childrens Services, Tewksbury State Hospital and director of the United Cerebral Palsy Training Center of the Merrimack Valley. In their talks they plan to cover all phases of the subject and in particular the importance of testing being a requirement for all learning disabled children. Within their view testing is well within the future capabilities of regular public school class room teachers.

The MVACLD is a non profit group working to overcome Learning Disability problems. The Association brings in speakers for the benefit of teachers and parents. Wherever possible it has brought pressure locally and, through the parent organizations - Mass Child, Inc. and National ACLD, with headquarters in Pittsburgh, at the State and National level. Mass Child was one of the organizations active in bringing forth the new Chapter 766. In addition the MVACLD is geared to help the individual parent and teacher. Under the new law 766 it is the responsibility of the parent (and other individuals) to request core evaluation if that person thinks it is needed. MVACLD will assist in that process. The Schools are required, under the law to complete the evaluation. Under 766 the parent is in control.

The Monday meeting is scheduled to start at 7:45 p.m. The talks by each of the four will be followed by a period for questions from the audience. After that there will be a refreshment period and an opportunity to talk with the speakers, and with other parents and teachers having similar problems. Association officers and directors will be on hand to set up continuing assistance where requested.

The meeting is open to all and the Association puts major emphasis on serving the needs of Lawrence, Methuen, No. Andover and Andover. Those who previously attended meetings should note the new meeting place. From Shawsheen Square on Route 28, take route 133 (Lowell St) to the first light, turn right on Beacon St. -- School is on left.

Knights Prep For No. Reading

Coming off a 7-0 loss to a tough Lynnfield Club, Head Coach Dan Rorke has been beefing up his offensive forces at North Andover High in anticipation of Saturday's clash with victory-starved North Reading at the latter's field Saturday afternoon.

"We're healthy and working hard for this Saturday," Rorke reports as he looks toward a tough game, meeting a big club which has dropped its first two games of the season.

Last Saturday, North Reading dropped a 13-0 decision to a strong Hamilton-Wenham team while North Andover was losing to Lynnfield, both in Cape Ann conference clashes

Rorke feels his Scarlet Knights will be in there Saturday, hopefully finishing up on the winning side of the ledger. The Hornets have a strong defensive club, the Scarlet Knights head coach says

In preparation for the Saturday Cape Ann contest, Rorke has been working on strengthening the offense. "Our offense has to be better than last Saturday and our defense will have to continue to be strong," Rorke says.

Last Saturday, the Knights just couldn't get their offense rolling.

Wayne Alexander, quarterback, was sacked five times and completed two passes in five attempts.

Best opportunity for the Knights came in the second half, as Willie Morgan took the kickoff on his 13 and scampered past the midfield stripe and appeared headed for a score until being hauled down at the Lynnfield 37.

Penalties and the inability to move the ball, forced North Andover to punt away their only solid scoring opportunity of the afternoon.

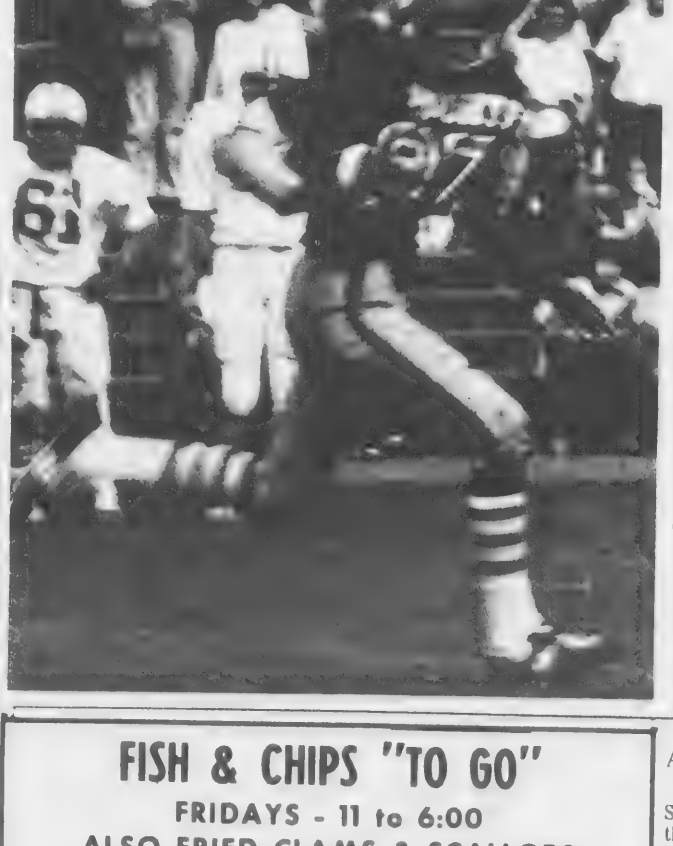

For Lynnfield, it was backs Glenn Dolbeare and Steve Celata, doing yeoman work toting the ball.

Dolbeare finally cracked over from the one yard line midway through the second period.

The Lynnfield club had two other scores called back on penalties, after which the Knights were able to halt further scoring threats.

Defensive standouts for the Knights were Mike Chory, Fran Murphy, Mike Heaphey and Tom Donovan.

Rains Halt Final Ruth Lg. Tryouts

Heavy rains last Saturday night forced cancellation of the Andover Babe Ruth baseball team's second-and-final Fall tryout session scheduled for last Sunday afternoon at the Playstead Field.

Due to the increasingly cold weather and the arrival of the football season, the second tryout will not be re-scheduled.

The opeining workout two weeks ago attracted 21 candidates, including 221 thirteen-year-old hopefuls.

Older boys who attended the tryouts were Geoff Bragdon, Jim Arnold, Dave Birnbach, Jim Wetterberg and Brain Feeney.

Little League graduates included Pete Feeney, Charlie Wiseman, Bill Stahley, Robbie Wilkins, Jim DiTroia, Steve Mosher, Chris Carlson, Dennis Sheehan, Dave Carignan, Brian Hardy, Rich Gusmini, Sam Chernak, Jay DiIorio, Bob Stammers, Robbie Robinson, Bill Eaton, Larry Meltzer, Dave Roberts, Steve Bernard, Bill Hall and Scott LaRosa.

The team held its annual Father-Son breakup dinner last week at Indian Ridge Country Club, featuring the awarding of trophies and showing of a pair of sports films, and tonight the season comes to an official close with the Greater-Lawrence League banquet at a Lawrence restaurant.

Hockey Registration Scheduled

The Andover Hockey Association, Inc., has announced plans for the coming season and has established a registration day for boys new to the youth hockey program.

Registration for boys new to the program between the ages of 7 and 14 inclusive (as of January 1975) will be held on Saturday, Oct. 19, at the Phillips Academy hockey rink. Registration will take place between 9 and 11 a.m. Boys registering must be accompanied by a parent. A registration fee of $35 is required at time of registration.

Registrations will be accepted after Oct. 19 only as vacancies exist.

The first sessions of the program will be held in early November. Boys registered in the program will be notified by mail prior to that time as to group assignments.

Forward Looking Winners

Brooks school got off to stunning start last Saturday with a 34-0 win over Roxbury Latin and is working hard in preparation for its meeting with Middlesex school this week. The North Andover club has not beaten its Saturday opponent in seven years. Figuring in last Saturday's win were, Bill Finneran, left, of North Andover, who scored on a pass reception and played defensive end, Dave Redman, of Andover a tackle-middle guard.

Brooks Looking For Big One Saturday

As gratifying as the 34-0 opening win over Roxbury Latin was last Saturday for Brooks school, it is this Saturday that Head Coach Steve Berocchi is looking forward to when Middlesex school visits the North Andover campus.

Brooks has not defeated Middlesex for the past seven years and Perocchi has told his charges that he wants a win this Saturday badly. It stands as tough order, based on a Middlesex opening game 33-0 win over Brown and Nichols.

Perocchi was well pleased with the stunning win last Saturday noting the performance was "a real indication of what they can do."

Leading the Brooks attack against the Roxbury visitors was Peter Karamourtopoulos, who ran for 200 yards and three touchdowns.

Also putting points on the scoreboard of Brooks was Bill Finneran of North Andover with a pass reception, Joe Nissi on a five yard run, Lance McComish and Steve Bartlett with two point conversions.

Finneran played both defense and offense in the winning effort along with Al Arcidi.

Victory Music From Alexander's Band

By Rick Harrison

It was a weekend of upsets.

In college football Notre Dame and Texas fell, and in the pro ranks giants like the Dallas Cowboys and the Los Angeles Rams were humbled.

But in local high school grid play, Andover High rolled on with a consistency unmatched by any other Greater Lawrence team in recent history.

Clearing one of its biggest hurdles of the season, Coach Dick Collins' poised Golden Warriors denied Wilmington 14-6 before a highly-partisan crowd of 1,400 people at Eugene Lovely Field last Saturday.

The victory, coming on the heels of a 35-8 drubbing of Pentucket Regional in the opener, boosted Andover's 1974 record to 2-0.

It also extended the Warriors' three-year regular-season unbeaten streak through 19 straight games, with the last setback a 33-28 thriller against Wilmington in the 1972 opener.

AHS, the defending Merrimack Valley Conference champ, currently shares the top spot with Dracut, Billerica and Chelmsford.

For visiting Head Coach Fred Bellissimo of Wilmington, whose Wildcats had never lost here in Andover before, the 14-6 defeat blocked the path to his 100th career victory.

Heroes Galore

If you want heroes, they came in all shapes and sizes for Andover during last Saturday's somewhat sloppy (10 turnovers) game.

Take junior halfback Bill Alexander for openers. Alex scored the first touchdown on an 18-yard interception runback, scored that TD on a one-yard plunge, and chewed up 36 yards rushing in six carries.

Senior quarterback Jeff Winters completed 11-of-22 passes (Alex was 0-for-1) for 140 yards, despite the fact he was under extreme pressure throughout most of the afternoon from Wilmington's tough pass rush.

Jeff had a 37-yard pass-and-run touchdown play to Craig Eosefow nullified by a holding call, but another 27-yard strike to Glenn Verrette was the key play in the second TD drive.

ANDOVER SOPHOMORE DEFENSIVE back Jerry Stabile (49) leaps high and raises arms in triumph following fumble recovery by Golden Warriors in last Saturday's game with Wilmington. Looking on for AHS are Craig Eosefow (37), Bill Kenney (63), John McDonald (77).

Verrette, the junior wide receiver with the sticky fingers, hauled in five more passes for 50 yards and now has 13 receptions for 154 yards in two games. A similar pace would enable him to break Bob Farnham's school record for catches in a single season, although Glenn will play one more game.

Then there was senior wide receiver and safety T.J. Stamas, who snatched three passes from Winters for 36 yards and intercepted two Wildcats' aerials to help boost Andover's two-game interception total to nine.

Two-way tackle John McDonald was excellent both ways, as were two-way performer Bill Kenney and sophomore defensive specialists Mike Bernard and Jerry Stabile. Bernard was credited with assisting on 11 tackles and Stabile, who cracked a bone in his right hand, was in on 15 tackles.

Middle linebacker John Drivas played perhaps his best game ever, as the junior performer recovered one fumble, was responsible for jarring loose the ball on a second bobble and had a part of 17 tackles.

Finally, there was two-way back Dave Tallini who gained 24 yards rushing in seven carries, recovered a fumble and also made his presence felt numerous times with hard hits on defense.

Another Farnham

Andover took the opening kickoff at its own 28, and aided by a well-executied 40-yard pass-and-run play from Winters to junior end Mark Farnham, marched swiftly to the Wildcats' 26 yard line.The Wilmington defense stiffened here, however, and on fourth-and-6 Winters was sacked for a six-yard setback by Wildcat ends Jack Stygles and Dana Mullarky.

Alex Strikes

An immediate clipping penalty on the visitors shoved them back inside their own 10.

Quarterback Carl Butler, who was to go 0-for-10 on the day with five interceptions, floated a soft pass toward the right sideline on third-and-23.

Alexander cut in front of intended receiver Mike Mazzola, swiped the ball and raced 18 yards to paydirt down the sideline.

Kicking specialist Pete Reilly, who is now 7-for-7 this year after going 26-for-29 in 1973, toed the PAT for a 7-0 spread at 3:52.

Back-And-Forth

The remainder of the first period developed into an exchange of punts between Alexander and Wilmington's multi-talented Bob Bacota, although Stamas did change the pattern once with a pass theft at the AHS 26.

A hard rush by Dana Mullarky forced a quick punt by Alexander, who later boomed spiralling 47 and 43 yard kicks, and the ball fell dead at the Wildcats' 45 yard stripe.

Bavota, who led all rushers with 108 yards in 23 workhorse carries, lugged the leather five times for 41 yards to advance the ball to the Andover 14.

Wilmington changed tactics and let Bob Aprile run the next play, but Drivas socked him and jarred the football loose for Tallini to recover at the Golden Warriors' six.

Costly Mistake

Three straight running plays by Alexander and Winters netted just nine yards, and Alex dropped back at the goalline to punt.

The center snap squirted through his hands, and by the time he retrieved the ball and tried to escape he was nailed at the one yard line by Mazzola, Ralph Peterson and John Campbell.

Butler sliced over on the following play to cut the score to 7-6.

Jack Stygles lined up to boot the potential tying point, but Bellissimo changed his mind and went for two and the lead. The first try failed, but Andover was caught holding. The second attempt by Bavota up-the-middle was stopped cold by the center of the line.

The remainder of the half produced an exchange of interceptions by Mazzola and Stamas, while Alexander dug Andover out of one hole with his 47-yard punt.

Breathing Room

Butler's pension for throwing the ball into the hands of opposing players paid off again early in the third quarter.

Alexander picked off a deflected aerial at the Warriors' 36, and zig-zagged his way 30 yards to the Wilmington 34.

Winters found Stamas for six yards and Steve Fabiani ran for one to the 27.

Winters found Stamas for six yards and Steve Fabiani ran for one to the 27.

Jeff then spotted favorite target Verrette up the middle, and fired a 26½-yard completion to Glenn who legged the ball to the one-foot line before Dino Esposito stopped him short of paydirt.

Espo, younger brother of Boston College record-breaking back Mike Esposito, had the unenviable task of covering Verrette 1-on-1 all afternoon.

Alexander next followed a Dave Tallini block over the right side for the final foot and Andover's second TD.

Warriors

Winters juggled the center snap on the conversion kick, but quickly got it down for Reilly to split the uprights again.

The lead was now 14-6 with 3:27 gone in the second half.

Statistics

Andover closed with statistical edges in first downs (10-9), yards passing (140-16), total yardage (226-142) and scrimmage plays (59-49).

Checking Winters' passing figures for two games, he is 27-for-40 totalling over 350 yards and three touchdowns.

Also keying the stingy Andover defense were Jim Deyermond, John Aiello and Brian Flannery.

This Saturday

Andover puts its 19-game regular-season victory streak on the line this Saturday (1:30) against Chelmsford (1-1 overall) at Lovely Field.

Coach Dick Bove's Lions, who have been minus top running back Mike Conway for the first two weeks (ankle injury), dropped a tight 8-3 decision to Lowell High before nipping Tewksbury 7-3 last week.

The Lions are big, but cumbersome, and possess an excellent field goal kicker in Guy Swiatlowski. He set an MVC record with three field goals last season, including a 41-yarder, and he booted a 27-yard three-pointer at Lowell.

Three Tilts Lift Lid On Juniors Grid Season

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Junior Football League, for boys 10-13 years of age, kicked off its 17th season of competition last Sunday with three games before a large crowd at the East Junior High Field.

The Ballardvale Browns launched their campaign in fine style with a convincing 12-0 victory over the defending champion Central Colts.

The Shawsheen Patriots edged the Indian Ridge Vikings, 7-6, in the second game; and then the Bancroft Dolphins and West Andover Giants struggled mightily to a 0-0 standoff.

These were the first of five-game schedules for all teams, who play each other once apiece.

Browns 12, Colts 0

Quarterback Marty Solomon directed a pair of long scoring drives in the second and fourth quarters, powering Coach Bill Doherty's Browns to their 12-0 triumph.

Solomon capped the first march, during which he gained most of the yardage on keeper plays, by sneaking over from the one yard line late in the half.

Marty's attempted conversion pass to Pete Iannazzi fell incomplete.

After the 'B' teams battled through a scoreless third period, Solomon pitched a 15-yard TD pass to Larry Larrabee for an insurance tally in the final stanza.

Again the attempted PAT pass, this time from Solomon to former Tewksbury resident Larrabee, was no good.

Other offensive standouts for the Browns were 'B' team running back John Brideau and 'A' team back Dave Deloury. Defensively for the winners the stars included 'A' team linemen Dave Grant and Dave White, the latter a big 11-year-old gridder.

Leading the way for the Colts were running backs Andy Billings and Dave Milne, the team co-captains. Defensively for Coach Matt Hall's crew it was tackle Guy Kothman and middle guard Jason Powell.

Pats 7, Vikings 6

Like their National Football League counterparts, Coach Bill Walsh's Patriots won their opener.

All the scoring came in the first half of this squeaker.

The Pats jumped on top 7-0 in the first quarter, as 'A' team quarterback Tom Walsh snuck his 98-pound frame over the goal line from one yard away.

What turned out to be the winning point came seconds later, when fullback Bill Dufresne sliced off tackle for the conversion.

Coach Mickey Sirois' Vikes battled back in the second stanza, following the red-hot throwing arm of signal-caller Steve Doherty to paydirt.

Doherty completed several passes to keep the drive rolling, and then found younger brother Chris Doherty alone in the right corner of the endzone for a 30-yard touchdown aerial.

Kevin Callahan's rush for the tying point was stacked up short.

Steve Doherty almost put the Vikings ahead on the final play of the first half, skirting left end and racing to the Patriots' four yard line before being bumped out of bounds.

The Pats had a third stanza TD called back. Dave Robinson of the 'B' squad scampered 60 yards to daydirt, but the play was nullified by an offside infraction.

Offensive stalwarts for the Shawsheen team were halfbacks Mel Berger, Steve Stabile and fullback Dufresne. Defensive leaders included linebackers Jim Lacourse and Don Bliss, along with end Phil Weeks who was the league's MVP last year.

Kevin Callahan and Mike DeSalvo ran well at halfback for the Vikings. Linebackers Doug Kirkland and Paul Bruk were in on numerous tackles.

Dolphins 0, Giants 0

Neither team was able to punch over a score here, as the defenses controlled play for Coach Bob Merola's Dolphins and Coach Mike Snoonian's Giants.

Turning in good defensive performances for the Dolphins were linebackers Ted MacDonald and Barry Ota, while defensive sparkplugs for the Giants were linebackers Craig Mifflin and Steve Johnson.

Moving the ball offensively for the Dolphins were John Merola, Dave Cullinan and Wayne Merola. Chewing up the bulk of the turf for the Giants were Bruce Turgess, Jeff Nicastro and Mike Curley.

Schedule

The opening cermonies prior to Sunday's first game featured past AJFL president Ed LaFleur "kicking out" the first ball . with selectman George Heseltine doing the holding.

Action resumes this Sunday with the Patriots battling the Chargers at 12 noon, the Browns tangling with the Dolphins at 1:15 p.m.; and Colts locking horns with the Vikings at 2:30 o'clock.

Special Swim Class To Resume

Swimming classes open to children with all types of physical disabilities will be renewed on Saturday, Oct. 5 at the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School swimming pool, according to Mrs. Edward Kopec, Volunteer Chairman.

Sponsored by the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, this program which is free to handicapped children ages 5-17 will be held each Saturday through Nov. 23 from 2 to 3 p.m.

Mrs. Virginia Jones of North Reading, a qualified Water Safety Instructor, will direct the program assisted by volunteers trained to work with handicapped boys and girls. When a swimmer has successfully completed the 4 levels of Easter Seal instruction, designed especially for children with varied disabilities, the child may continue in a standard Red Cross swim program.

Further information on this program may be obtained from the Easter Seal Society's regional office at 26 Chestnut St., Andover, or Mrs. Kopec, 14 Byron Ave., Lawrence.

IN TOURNEY. Ross Coon (left), golfing professional at the Indian Ridge Country Club, has competed with club members, Judy Fazioli and Clive Fazioli, in the Birds Eye TV Golf Tournament held recently at Holly Ridge, Cape Cod's new residential community in Sandwich. The team competed against 31 teams of pros and amateurs throughout New England and will be seen in a weekly half-hour series to be telecast by WSBK-TV (Channel 38), Boston, starting 7 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 13.

Judo Course Is Offered

The Recreation / Community Schools Department will be offering Judo and Self Defense for Junior and Senior High School students on Mondays starting Oct. 7. The class will be held at West Junior High from 6:30 - 8:30 p.m.

The course is an intensive program designed to develop proficient and effective use of basic Judo and Self Defense skills, as well as giving students a better understanding of the philosophy behind the art. It will be instructed by Frank Greenberg who has taught judo in previous department programs. The course will run for eight weeks and there will be a registration fee. Students who are interested should register at the Recreation / Community Schools Office, 36 Bartlet St.

Motor Presented Junior High

One of West Junior High's elective enrichment courses received a boost this year as the school became the recipient of a "demonstrator engine" from General Motors Corporation.

Automotive science instructor, Frank McCarthy, suggested that the 400 cubic inch displacement engine will be used to provide students, enrolled in the "Automotive" elective courses, with a working knowledge of the various systems comprising the engine.

Overpricing his house is perhaps the commonest mistake the do-it-yourself seller makes. Usually there is no objective basis for the price he picks. Often he recalls what he paid for it and adds a comfortable profit. Or else he heard that the house down the street sold for so much, and he knows his must be worth a lot more. In any event, he goes for the top dollar, since he can always negotiate later. He forgets that most buyers have been shopping around and can instantly compare the one house the seller has to offer with the many others they have seen. By the time the seller becomes realistic, everyone thinks something must be wrong, no matter what the price.

League To Support Three Items

The League of Women Voters will support Three articles on the October town meeting warrant.

According to Sue Tucker, League president the decisions to support or oppose articles are made by the League only in those areas that have been previously studied and approved by the members.

Article 3: Because the League supports re-cycling projects under its environmental quality position, The League feels that unauthorized removal of recyclable materials should be prohibited by the town.

Article 8: The League supports a state wide public transportation system that is accessible to all and which will provide access through jobs, housing and services. Therefore we support this article which will allow Andover to continue its MBTA commuter rail service.

Article 9: Providing funds for Andover to join the Merrimack Valley Home Care Corp. will aid the elderly and financially disabled citizens of our community. This is in accordance with the Leagues support of financial assistance programs and services which will allow all people in need to maintain a decent level of living

Downtown To Become Art Gallery

The Andover Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an Art Festival Week beginning Oct. 28 through Nov. 2. Main Street will become a cultural center as part of a week long festival of exhibits in stores and businesses displayed by the talents of the Andover Artists Guild.

The festival is a celebration of fall and the exuberance of the arts. The gaiety of the event will soften the often grim and hectic reality of work-day in Andover. Main Street, Andover will be a collection headquarters for hundreds of works of art, most of them by, Andover artists. Merchants will hang the paintings or display them on easels within their place of business during the festival week.

Don't miss this fabulous week long cultural festival on Main Street.

The hope is that stores along Main Street, banks and other businesses, restaurants, all will be converted into art galleries during the art festival. Some of the artists will help to arrange the displays.

Auto Theft Program Scheduled

The President of the Massachusetts Council On Auto Theft Prevention has announced that a week-long program of public information relative to auto theft prevention will get underway shortly in Andover.

John V. Dow, president of the council, made the announcement recently in Boston. The week-long campaign will get underway Tuesday, Oct. 15, as local officials formally welcome council officials and a specially equipped council vehicle which will be stationed at various shopping locations.

Printed materials will be distributed at several key locations urging motorists to lock their cars when leaving them unattended. It is estimated that as many as 40 per cent of all auto thefts involve vehicles in which the car keys have been left in the car or the ignition.

The week-long program here is part of a statewide campaign under the auspices of the Council. Approximately 30 towns throughout the Commonwealth will have participated in similar week-long programs when the council's second campaign year concludes in June, 1975.

"It is essential that the public become better acquainted with the problem of auto theft which is costing millions of dollars annually," Mr. Dow declared. "There is a crucial role which each motorist can play in eradicating this costly problem: namely, to lock it and pocket the key!"

Bakery Sale

On Saturday, Oct. 5, the fourth graders of West Elementary will sponsor a bakery sale to benefit UNICEF.

The bakery sale will be held in the cafeteria of West Elementary School. The time of the sale is 10 a.m. - 1 p.m. Be sure to come and purchase some delicious bakery goods and help the fourth graders support UNICEF.

Production Up

Brazil's automobile production during the first six months of 1974 shot up 23 per cent compared with the number of cars manufactured during the same period last year.

Prizes will be awarded to the fanciest, the spookiest and the funniest entries. All children in grades K-6 are invited to enter pumpkins that are no larger than 20 inches around.

Have you seen the wonderful collection of insects that we have in the Children's Room display case? Alvin, Norbert and Henning Ohlenbusch captured butterflies, moths, dragonflies, beetles and more insects, all found in Mass. They've arranged them in a most exciting display. Drop by soon, you won't want to miss it!

Great Books Program

The Great Books Program will have its next discussion group on Oct. 8 at 7:30 p.m. at the library. The title is Tolstoy's The Death of Ivan Ilych and the discussion will be led by Robert Rockwell of North Andover. As usual, the public is cordially invited to attend this series which highlights some of the great works of world literature.

Selectmen Proclaim Sweetest Day

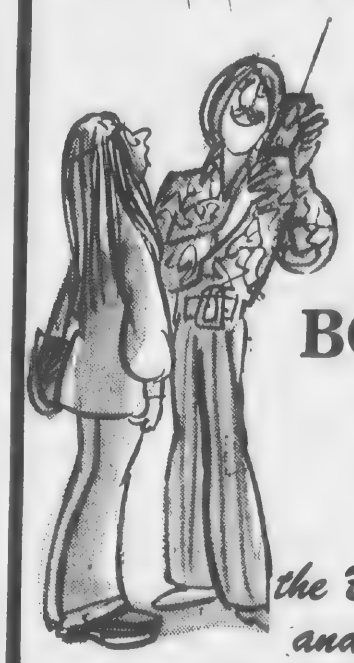

The most carefully planned event for Andover is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 19. That's when Andover senior citizens under the leadership of Mrs. Doris Hudgins at Haven Headquarters on Barnard Street will distribute flowers to all of the nursing homes and to the elderly project for the "Sweetest Day" of all.

Chairman of Selectmen, Milton Greenberg, has signed a proclamation declaring Oct. 19, "Sweetest Day" in support of this occassion to remember others by kind thoughts and deeds. The proclamation defines these generous people who give freeley and unselfishly of themselves without thought to receiving praise or any remuneration for dedicated services, and proclaims those interested in encouraging kindnesses between all individuals on this particular day, the third Saturday in October.

The Andover Center Merchants are sponsoring this event and purchasing the flowers to be presented to Andover's elederly as a gesture of goodwill and kindness and to remember our shut-ins on this special day.

Town Meeting

There is fear among local officials that events of the past few weeks and days has taken the starch, so-called out of Monday night's October town meeting, leaving the session with a limp semblance of its former controversial self.

As such, there looms the distinct possibility of failing to obtain a quorum. In order to transact business on the items, it is necessary to have 350 voters on hand.

A cursory glance could well give the idea that the business at hand is not of great importance. The recall provision has been withdrawn from consideration, the proposed addition of a meter reader has been resolved through the granting of some additional federal funds.

There are two items, however, which are in need of attention and some action by the electorate on Monday night.

One involves a bylaw change to alter the structure and terms of the members of the school committee.

The proposal is offered by Atty. Irving L. Newman and calls for two year terms for the school committee members and an increase in the size of the board.

Mr. Newman has his thoughts on the particular matter, and is certainly due the courtesy of a forum to explain them and have action taken on the proposal.

Another matter of particular interest is the proposed rezoning of South Main street and to provide for additional apartments or town houses.

To a certain extent, one can surmise that this not being a money item, just rezoning, its importance is not relevant.

Such thinking, however, is not completely true, since the addition of apartments to the existing South Main street complex, most assuredly could have monetary influence on the community.

The proposal is for some 70 additional buildings in the area and 294 additional units.

There is the consideration of overall town planning, the availability of utilities to the area and other municipal services, should the rezoning be approved and the complex developed.

So, what seems like a rather dull agenda, could well prove otherwise and attendance is recommended in sufficient numbers to get the business of the town cared for.

It very well could be that the session can be moved along to get the voters home in time for the Monday night kickoff.

88 Years

With this edition of the TOWNSMAN, we begin our 88th year of service to the community.

It has been many years since the first TOWNSMAN carried accounts of a fireman's muster, a meeting of the Lowell Congregational Conference, along with a number of items about people in the community visiting here and there.

Also, we might add, it has been a long time since such things as $15 overcoats were being advertised within the pages of the TOWNSMAN.

As assuredly the times have changed, so has the newspaper, its content and the machinery that makes it possible.

Having grown with the community for these past 88 years, we accept our responsibility to be the observant citizen and keep abreast of the events of Andover for our readers.

Newspapers in general have been faced with a period of examining themselves and their roles in the modern world, particularly in the period during and immediately following the recent national crisis.

We look upon our role today, as being little different than the pledge issued with the first edition back in 1887, when the TOWNSMAN promised to be a responsible voice in the community.

Growth of this newspaper in recent years has been possible through the introduction of the most modern in production machinery, computers rapidly processing the news and advertising content.

The TOWNSMAN was among the first newspapers in New England to employ the photo offset method of printing to provide the reader with the best product available.

But even greater than modern technology in production, we feel our best evidence in growth in the continued interest expressed by the most important ingredient - - our readers, the public we seek to serve.

That our final issue of the 87th year, a week ago, was one of the largest ever published by the TOWNSMAN, is significant.

It is through such indications of growth and acceptance that we pledge to continue our efforts to constantly be aware of our obligations to better serve the community as a responsible citizen.

A Beginning

We are pleased to a certain extent to see some positive action on the proposed Hewlett-Packard development in West Andover.

Arkwright/Boston Insurance Co., announced a week ago that it was beginning construction of access roads and some general earth moving in preparation of some physical plant construction next spring.

This week, Burt Dole of H-P appeared before the selectmen, to inform them of the company's plans for development of the West Andover industrial area.

Mr. Dole also introduced Robert Danahy, manufacturing manager of H-P, who he said would be in charge of hiring many people in the area for the plant when it is finished sometime in 1976.

All of this is encouraging.

We have never been completely pessimistic about the plans of the electronics firm.

But, we do share the concern of many local officials concerning the funds available for construction of the trunk sewer line to the site.

Hopefully, the timetable set by H-P which will lead to such utility construction, will accommodate the $2.5 million available.

Mr. Dole made two significant comments Monday night in noting that corporate officials are keeping a weather-eye on the economy, which so far has Hewlett-Packard doing just fine. Also, he said, bids on this initial phase of work in West Andover had come in higher than anticipated due to rising construction costs.

We hold to our optimistic view of having Hewlett-Packard as a corporate citizen of Andover within a reasonable period of time.

Off The Top Of The Desk

A salute to those involved in the cleanup work following the Sunday storm which swept through the area.

The violent thunder, lightning, wind and rain did a job on trees, utility lines and surface drains.

Many town workers and utility company crews had a relaxing Sunday interrupted abruptly by a call to clean up and repair duties.

The work was accomplished in good time.

Power company crews worked long hours restoring electricity in many sections of the communities.

No doubt we can be classed among those that are particularly elated with the sudden surge of the New England Patriots.

Their early season success is deserved based on their play to date and hopefully their heads-up play in the first three upset wins will continue.

A loyal band of New England professional football followers may at long last be rewarded for their annual patronage and support of the team for so many years.

Among the more fascinating of school activities to watch these days is the physical education classes conducted for kindergarten and first graders.

The activity, at this time of year, is generally outside, and to see the diversity of youthful opinions and outlook on the proceedings is something to watch.

About half way through the period, all participants generally get into the proper swing and rhythm of the particular exercise, but until the youthful minds are ready to act in unison, there is a definite challenge.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - October, 1899

The American Express Truck has been returned to the depot at last. It had been absent for several days due to repairs.

Officer Warren Mooar has finished the school census and the following figures show the results of his findings: Number of children between five and 15, 947; boys between 5 and 15, 377, girls, 570; boys between seven and 15, 350, girls, 352.

Owing to an error in information, it was reported a week ago that the Trustees of Phillips Academy milk route, conducted by Fred M. Hill, was to be discontinued. Mr. Hill assures that such is not contemplated, although some changes are expected.

The first snow of the season fell on Oct. 2 this year, with a slight dusting giving an indication of a possible early winter.

Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith, daughter of Selectman Goldsmith is attending the normal school of domestic science and art in Boston.

50 Years Ago - October, 1924

A one and one-half story house on Topping Road in Shawsheen was levelled by fire early Saturday morning. It was believed to have been ignited from burning leaves nearby.

John Traynor was elected president of the local division of Hibernians at a meeting this week.

Henry Todd of Poor street, a popular Shawsheen resident, was unanimously elected custodian of the Shawsheen school by the school committee. His popularity and ability to serve his fellow man is expected to be an important asset to the new building.

The new Andover Savings Bank building at the corner of Chestnut and Main streets gives emphasis on the growth and success of the 90 years of the institution. The new, impressive building is modern and up to date in every way.

25 Years Ago - October, 1949

The school committee this week voted to grant $300 salary increases to Charles Gregory, serving as acting principal at the high school in the absence of Eugene V. Lovely, who is ill, and Benjamin F. Dimlich, acting principal of the junior high school, filling the vacancy there.

Charles F. Dalton will be invited to serve on the school needs survey committee, replacing Ralph T. Wilkinson, who resigned.

Richard Wrigley was installed as commander of American Legion Post 8 this week by the installing suite consisting of Past Commanders Arthur Coleman and Joseph McCarthy of Andover post and Louis P. Saunders of North Andover.

New building for the month of August reached a new high for the year with new construction totalling $661,634, and additions and alterations, $18,536.

A large delegation of local residents and officials along with Ballardvale PTA members travelled to Boston by train to protest the installation of automatic gates at the Andover street crossing.

10 Years Ago - October, 1964

The cost of the proposed new high school is protested at the first public hearing on the proposal.

The zoning board of appeals heard a petition this week requesting permission to expand the animal hospital on Lowell street.

School Board Chairman John S. Sullivan, says that misconceptions concerning the new high school building must be cleared in order to expedite the project.

Prince, a German Shepherd, has joined the canine corps of the police department under trainer William Atwood.

What Our Readers Say-

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

With all the controversial and newsworthy events at all levels of government today it is easy to see how some of the seemingly less important actions of public officials go by unnoticed.

A tip of the hat is in order for some North Andover officials. Recently, a notification of a potentially tragic situation was brought to the attention of Highway Surveyor, W.A. Cyr and the Board of Selectmen. This situation focused on a particularly dangerous spot on Rte. 114, the Berry Street - Harold Parker Forest intersection. I have nieces and nephews (totalling 10) who board the school bus there which, up to recently, has been a passing zone in both directions. In addition, there were not any warning signs to notify motorists who are inclined (by the grade of the road) to accelerate through that intersection. Certain precautionary measures were suggested in a letter describing this situation to the Selectmen.

Chairman Kirk coordinated with local officials and the Mass. D.P.W. to investigate this matter. Remedial action has resulted in eliminating the passing zone at that intersection and installing two school bus stop warning signs. Motorists may also have noticed all that yellow paint for lane control along Rte. 114 which is commonly perceived as a dangerous road. This action also shows how town and state officials are concerned about traffic safety and the incidence of danger on Rte. 114. It is also relieving to know that additional improvements are in the planning stages.

As a resident of Andover, I am particularly impressed with the spirit of cooperation extended to my by Mr. Cyr and Mr. Kirk. This action if noteworthy and should reillustrate to the residents of North Andover that their public servants can and do get involved in correcting matters that should be corrected in the public interest.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

In this era of general discontent with "governmental" decisions, there is still a time and place where the people meet to make their own decisions on fundamental issues closest to home. This opportunity is available to every registered voter in Andover on Monday, Oct. 7 at Town Meeting. Important Articles concerning land use, transportation, and budget items await your inspection. The Andover League of Women Voters urges all citizens to come to Town Meeting and become a very real part of the decision making in their community.

Lane Opposed

Court Asked To Alter Secret Meeting Finding

A motion asking the Superior Court judge to alter his order in the Lane-secret meeting case, to bar all members of the school committee, as well as the superintendent and his subordinates from holding secret meetings, was filed in Superior Court by Chairman Francis Griggs Monday.

Griggs sought the alteration because of the resignation Sept. 17 of John G. Wragg from the committee. The judge's original ruling had specifically ordered Wragg, along with Committeemen John Lyons and George Olesen, to stop holding secret meetings.

Committeeman William Lane, the winner in court, however, Tuesday night tagged the new motion "unnecessary" and called upon Griggs to withdraw it.

Lane said he would have been willing to endorse the change, had he known about it and been asked to sign, without the question going back to the court, at possible further expense to the town. He said he would still sign if Griggs withdrew the motion.

Lane added that he thought the part pertaining to the superintendent and his subordinates might be illegal, since they, in their day to day duties, aren't covered in the same open meeting law.

Griggs countered that the committee had been advised by special counsel Atty. James Murphy to take the "updating" action since Wragg is no longer on the committee, and that the action had cost only an additional ten cents - - the price of a stamp.

Lyons added that the earlier decision was almost a "moot point" now because the order only specified himself and Olesen, and "because two men can't be a meeting." We're actually trying to improve the situation, Lyons said.

Lane earlier this week had struck back at Griggs for referring to the open meeting suit, at the September 17 meeting, as a "garbage suit." He also took issue with recent statements by Griggs and Lyons "which show that they are, and intend to remain, intractable and polarized at a time when reasonableness and responsiveness should prevail."

"If members of the school committee cannot return to the committee meetings without vindictiveness and bitterness . . . if they cannot feel comfortable in conducting their affairs in full view of the public, as the law provides, then they should resign," Lane said.

He suggested that their places then be taken "by men and women who understand that the public does indeed have a vital role to play in the governance of its own public school system."

Lane issued his statement Monday, "in order that the townspeople will have sufficient information to form a just decision on the issues at hand."

"I did not, nor do I now, consider the lawsuit I brought against my school committee associates 'a garbage lawsuit,' as Chairman Griggs has declared it to be," Lane said.

He said he filed the suit "as a last resort" after seeking a legal opinion on the state open meeting law from Town Counsel Alfred Daniels, after witnessing many meetings in March, April and May "proceed according to a pre-determined and secretly developed format," after communicating with the chairman "to see if he might bring some reason to the chaos and the mistrust that enveloped the committee and its work after the most recent town elections," and after members of the committee refused to publicly state their reasons for firing Assistant Superintendent Edward Regan, and demoting High School English Department Head Bill Becker, "even after having been asked to do so by more than 4,700 voters and nearly 900 high school students."

Lane said that some of the spring meetings proceeded even with "printed formats and scripts developed at privately arranged, secret and illegal meetings to which were invited only School Committeemen Wragg, Olesen and Lyons."

He said he had also discussed the issue at length with the school committee in executive session oly to have one member remark, "You must be crazy if you think we're not going to meet in secret."

"Garbage?" Lane went on. "I should say not. The findings of the superior court justice who heard and decided in the case serve to insure that members of the Andover School Committee can no longer meet secretly and illegally. All public business must now be conducted publicly as the law has always provided. In the future, it will not be possible for pettiness to pass for good reason - - it will not be possible for ill will to be made to appear as good faith - - it will not be possible for outright hate and anger to be disguised as 'in the best interests of the system' - - at least it will not be possible for these things to transpire without full public disclosure where well-informed and interested townspeople will be in a position to probe, question and form their own opinions on the important decisions of their elected officials."

On the question of the cost of the suit to the Town, Lane said he thought it "deplorable that the town will have to pay for having had its interests defended against three school committee members who met secretly and illegally to plot the destiny of the Andover School System and its staff, thereby depriving the Town of its right under the laws of the Commonwealth for full disclosure, for public participation and for committee accountability.

"The same committee members who denied professional school system staff the courtesy of an open hearing, even without counsel managed, when they found themselves faced with a lawsuit, to engage three attorneys - - Town Counsel, special counsel and private counsel.

"In fact, these same committee members are now considering hiring their own school committee counsel to assist the school committee with numerous other lawsuits, grievances and possible other actions facing it as a result of the insensitive and capricious manner in which the school committee has conducted its affairs during these past seven months.

"It should also be noted that expenses incurred in processing the suit in my behalf, and clearly in the interests of the Townspeople of Andover, will not be paid for from the Town treasury. As an Andover taxpayer, I strenuously object to the Town's having to pay the legal fees of school committee members found by a court of law to have been conducting their school committee affairs in an illegal manner and I trust all Andover taxpayers will be equally incensed and will let their thoughts be known to the School committee and to the board of selectmen before such bills are authorized for payment."

Coaching, Other Positions Filled

A host of extra-curricular and coaching positions for the current school year were approved by the School Committee Tuesday night, from debating to girls' basketball, where Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert reported in a lighter moment, there's been "a breakthrough in male liberation."

Bradford Lawson, industrial arts teacher at the high school, has been named head girls basketball coach in a move that Seifert when questioned by Committeeman George Olesen, termed unusual, but not unheard of. Girls coaching jobs are normally filled by women.

Extracurricular appointments at East Junior High include R. Bruce Montgomery, industrial arts teacher, to be debating coach, at an additional stipend of $371.25; Peter Anderson, an English teacher and Steven Lavoine, a math teacher, co-dramatics coaches, at stipends of $276.17 and $268.13 respectively; Marie Ferraguto, math teacher, math team coach for the third year, at $393.53; and Kenneth Pellerin a business education teacher, newspaper advisor at $288.

Montessori Group Is Forming

A group of approximately 40 or more parents heard Joyce Schrier and Jane Mack, two very talented Montessori educators, speak on the Montessori philosphy and method Friday evening at the Memorial Hall Library.

After the speakers, a lively discussion period followed during which questions were answered and a strong interest in starting a Montessori preschool, ages three to six, in Andover, was expressed.

Members of the group are planning to observe Montessori schools in the Boston area. An evening session where a Montessori teacher will demonstrate the Montessori method and materials is planned, followed by daytime observations of the children in the Montessori envirnment.

Anyone who is interested to serve the greater Andover community need for a quality preschool program by joining this study group, please phone Mary Peck, after 6 p.m.

Mrs. Richard M. Bourdon

Bourdon - Sides

Lucie Boyce Sides, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whittemore Sides of Marblehead, formerly of Andover, became the bride Sunday of Richard Mather Bourdon of Sheridan, Wyoming.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Mary Mather Bourdon of Rapid Canyon Ranch, Sheridan, and Robert Slayton Bourdon of Wolcott, Vermont.

The Rev. Rollin J. Fairbanks performed the noon ceremony at the Ocean Avenue home of the bride's family. A reception followed.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Natalie S. Sides of Marblehead, as maid on honor. The bride's niece and nephew, Kate Meredith Flather and Charles Rogers Flather of Concord, were flower girl and escort.

Robert S. Bourdon, Jr., of Lebanon, N.H., was best man.

The new Mrs. Bourdon graduated from the Ethel Walker School and Skidmore College, Class of 1972. She will be employed by the Powder River Basin Resource Council in Sheridan, Wyoming.

To Assist Mt. Holyoke Effort

In an effort to raise at least one million dollars in the coming year for Mount Holyoke College from Alumnae, JoAnne B. Duffy (Mrs. William B., Jr.) of 22 Timber Lane, North Andover, and Mary C. Grant (Mrs. R. Wayne) of 47 School St., Andover, were two of 100 alumnae who were invited to attend a conference on the campus of the College in South Hadley.

Mrs. Duffy holds the job of class agent, which means that she is responsible for contacting each of her classmates to urge their support for the annual fund drive.

Mrs. Grant, besides her assignment as Chairman of the Leadership Committee of the North Shore Area for the Alumnae Fund drive, is very active in community affairs. She is a member of a subcommittee to study local school policies and curriculum, a member of the Adult Education Committee of the West Parish Church, and has participated in various fund drives.

The conference, "Challenge to Commitment: Commitment to Challenge" gave alumnae fund raisers opportunities to discuss the special problems that such things as inflation, unemployment and a lowered stock market bring to the fund raising process. The tone was generally optimistic and enthusiastic, and the recently completed 1973-74 drive brought over $800,000 to the College.

Mount Holyoke, founded in 1837, is the oldest continuing institution of higher education for women, and reconfirmed its decision to remain a college for women in the fall of 1971. Increasing awareness of the new roles of women in society and a reputation of academic excellence have aided immeasurably in both the securing of alumnae financial support and recruitment of qualified candidates

Area Alumnae Planning Fund Drive

Six local Wellesley College women will gather Oct. 8 at a bank of phones in Boston to call other local alumnae as part of Wellesley's nationwide Centennial Telethon Campaign to help raise their Centennial goal of $70.8 million over the next eight years.

Wellesley College, which will celebrate its 100th anniversary in 1975, has been a pioneer in higher education for women throughout its history. The current campaign will support the College's programs to meet the needs of women today and to prepare them for changing roles in society and in the business and professional worlds.

Mrs. Robert Snedeker, Andover and Mrs. Louis Goltz, Haverhill, District Fund Chairmen for the area will organize the local campaign.

At home in Andover, are Mr. and Mrs. Michael K. Broderick, who were married August 31 at St. Joseph's Church, Ballardvale.

The bride is the former Eileen Ann Brennan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy A. Brennan, 12 Carmel Road, Andover, and the groom is the son of Mrs. John M. Broderick of Buzzards Bay, and the late Mr. Broderick.

The Rev. Stanley Smith, O.S.A., of St. Augustine's Church, performed the 11 o'clock ceremony. Folk music was provided by Chip Page, Jeanne Allen and Ryan Buckley.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long, white, empress-style gown, with an embroidered voile front, and a finger-tip veil. She carried a colonial bouquet.

Kathy Brennan attended her sister as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Lyn and Susan Brennan. They wore empire gowns of pink, blue and yellow, with puffed sleeves and lace trim, and matching ribbons in their hair. They also carried colonial bouquets, with matching streamers.

Thomas Rees of Andover was best man, and ushers were David Broderick of Buzzards Bay, Tim and Bill Brennan of Andover, and Michael Holland of North Andover.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Stonehenge Restaurant, and the couple took their wedding trip to Northern New England and Canada.

The new Mrs. Broderick attended St. Patrick's High School and graduated from Andover High. She is attending Salem State College. Her husband, a graduate of Good Counsel High School in Wheaton, Md., attended Boston College and Salem State College. He is supervisor of material control at Draguostics, North Andover.

Friends Of Library Begin Member Drive

The Friends of the Memorial Hall Library began its annual membership drive this week. The aim of the group is to aid the library by providing volunteer help and by purchasing items which are useful to the library in carrying out its many services for the town but which are not financially accessible within its budget allotment.

The Friends have arranged interesting programs appealing to a variety of age groups and presented them at the library, and perhaps its best known fund raiser has been the Books Et Cetera Sale held in the Spring on the library steps.

Mrs. S. Joseph Hoffman, membership chairman, looks forward to seeing present members during the year and hopes to acquire many new Friends. Anyone interested in becoming a Friend may pick up a membership form at the library and return it as directed.

Leading the Friends this year are Mrs. George Edmonds, president; Mrs. George LeMaitre, vice president; Mrs. John Driscoll, recording secretary, Mrs. David Fleming, corresponding secretary; and Robert Rockwell, treasurer. Board members include Mrs. S. Joseph Hoffman, Mrs. Vincent Morton, Jr., Mrs. Chester Reynolds, Mrs. Jerry O'Donoghue, James Prout, Mrs. John Appleton, Mrs. Thayer Warshaw, Mrs. Michael Gravellese, Mrs. Albert Cullen, Mrs. Arthur Muldoon, Mrs. Larry Reeder, Mrs. Carmine DiAdamo, Mrs. Robert Cipro, John Kimball, Mrs. Leon Somers, and Mrs. John Perlowski.

JERRY COHEN LISTENS . .

Because he is concerned about your problems. Sure there are times when he speaks out decisively about open budget hearings, arrogant county government, special education needs, soaring food price inflation, judicial reform and so many other key issues facing the state today.

But just as important is his desire to listen! And its not just token listening during a campaign! He really listens! Why don't you try him this week.

This Saturday and Sunday, Jerry and his whole team will be conducting a telethon soliciting your ideas and questions. All you have to do is say "I want to talk to Jerry Cohen personally," you know what will happen? He'll call you back! Why? Because he listens!

Philharmonia Announces Appointments

The Boston Philharmonia Orchestra announces two major appointments as it presents its seventh season.

James Paul has been engaged as Principal Conductor and Michael Tilson Thomas whom the Philharmonia first brought to Boston in 1968 has become the Honorary Chairman of the Music Advisory Committee.

Both assume their duties with this season's Saturday evening series which opens Oct. 19 at 8:30 p.m. with Mr. Paul conducting. All concerts will be at the National Theater of the Boston Center for the Arts (537 Tremont St., between Berkeley and Clarendon Streets).

Highlight of the six-concert subscription series will be two performances of Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis" sponsored jointly by the Boston Philharmonia and the Chorus pro Musica on the Saturday and Sunday evenings of April 26 and 27, 1975. James Paul will conduct three of the six programs, including the "Missa Solemnis." The remainder will be conducted by guest conductors Karel Husa, noted Czech-born composer-conductor; James Conlon who last spring in his twenty second year made his Boston debut with the Philharmonia; and John Harbison, composer and former conductor of the Cantata Singers.

Andover was probably named after Andover, England, the original home of some of the first residents.

Dragonflies Well-Travelled

By Wayne Hanley

One would think that what may be the world's most successful dragonfly could tell the difference between a temporary pool and an automobile roof.

However, female globe-trotter dragonflies have been zipping around parking lots in recent days, occasionally touching automobile tops with the tip of their abdomens. The insect lays a small cluster of yellow eggs, perhaps 25 eggs, each time it taps on the car roof.

Strange things are happening in the maternity field these days. However, no one supposes that the globe-trotter has adopted birth control, even though the eggs deposited on car roofs never will hatch. The assumption is that the insect is responding to the glistening light from the car roof and equating it to the reflected light from temporary water pools with which it is familiar.

If you came in late, the dragonfly is that rather large insect that zips around over ponds and fields and usually is referred to as a snake doctor, a devil's darning needle, or other regional nicknames. In some areas they even are called airplane flies.

The globe-trotter (Pantala flavescens) is unusual in having a common name. Most of the dragonflies, and there are thousands of species, never got beyond the Greek or Latin scientific names that scientists have tagged upon them.

Christopher Leahy, New England naturalist and a Massachusetts Audubon international tour guide, has spent much of the summer scouting out the distribution of dragonfly species in the six-state region. He called attention to the globe-trotter egg-laying boo-boo.

To help in identification of the globe-trotters, Leahy describes the insect as having a three-inch-long bright gold body, brick-red eyes, and a four-inch span of clear wings. The globe-trotter is the only dragonfly that has been found on every land mass, including Australia.

At this season, the North American globe-trotters are migrating south, much as the migratory birds. Although several insects migrate, including other species of dragonflies, the globe-trotter is peculiarly adapted to riding air currents. Its broad hind-wings give it soaring lift which can take advantage of the North wind.

Since it is a predatory insect, the globe-trotter can make the southern journey with all the refinements of Pullman accommodations. While aloft, it can lunch on other flying insects. Thus, it is not unusual to see globe-trotter dragonflies flitting across Bermuda in the fall. One may assume that some of them made the overwater trip from New England or Nova Scotia.

Globe-trotter eggs which were lucky enough to land on a temporary pond, rather than a car roof, hatch in less than two weeks. The larvae spend a couple winters and a summer snapping up young mosquitoes and the like, and then become adult dragonflies.

Paintings Exhibited At Festival

Over one hundred paintings by outstanding Merrimack Valley artists will be exhibited at the 7th Annual Fall Festival sponsored by the Winnekenni Foundation, Inc.

Area art associations which will participate in the Festival include The Greater Haverhill Art Association, Mrs. Jackie Guilbert, Haverhill, Art Committee Chriaman; The Lowell Art Association, Leo Panas, Chelmsford, Program Chairman; The Merrimack Valley Art Association, John Homovics, Lawrence, Program Chairman, and The Andover Artists Guild, James E. Carson, Andover, Art Committee Chairman.

In addition to the association exhibits, the creative work of young people in the Valley, and a Senior arts and crafts exhibit will be featured.

The exhibits are open to the public and people interested in displaying their work should contact Richard Sanders, Atkinson, N.H.

Harvest Days Festival

Harvest Days is a time of fun for the whole family. The Harvest Days Festival will be held Saturday and Sunday, October 19 and 20 at Mass Audubon's Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary on Perkins Row in Topsfield.

A continuous schedule of events and demonstrations will run from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Saturday, and 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. on Sunday, ending each day with canoe jousting - everyone gets wet!

An admission will be charged as part of this annual fund-raising event. Refreshments will be available.

SERIES 100

The smoothest riding pickup we've ever built

This is our new Model 100 series for moderate hauling. We could have aptly called it "easy rider," it's that smoth . . . that quiet. A totally new independent coil spring front suspension on the two-wheel drive model steps over bumps lightly. The front wheel track is wider by 4 inches to improve roll stability and handling. Rear leaf springs are underslung for a lower center of gravity. And the rear shocks are staggered to reduce "wheel hop," especially when you're driving with a light load. It all works together to produce what we think is one of the smoothest handling pickups on the road.

Corporate Structure Is Reorganized At H-P

Hewlett-Packard has announced a restructuring of its corporate organization that involves a broadening of management responsibilities and includes the election of two of its executives, Robert L. Boniface and John A. Young, to the company's board of directors. The restructuring, said President William R. Hewlett, is "an evolutionary step in HP's continuing growth and diversification."

Under its new organization, the company has established a new management level consisting of two executive vice presidents, jointly responsible for operations, and a vice president for corporate administration. One of the executive vice presidents for operations will be Ralph E. Lee, who has been an executive vice president and director since 1969, but whose responsibilities will be expanded in the new position. John A. Young, formerly a vice president, has been promoted to executive vice president and will share with Lee the responsibility for the supervision of all HP product groups.

Robert L. Boniface, who previously had served as vice president of marketing, has been named vice president in charge of corporate administration. In his newly created position, Boniface will oversee corporate staff functions, including finance, marketing, international, personnel, legal, public relations, and other corporate services.

Alfred P. Oliverio has been elected a vice president and will succeed Boniface as HP's chief marketing executive. Oliverio was formerly marketing manager of the company's electronic products group.

Hewlett also announced that the company has realigned its four existing product groups into six groups. Young will oversee the activity of three groups, which will include a components group and newly-formed groups for instruments and for computer systems. Lee will be responsible for medical instruments and systems, a newly-formed calculator products group, and instruments and systems for chemical analysis.

Hewlett continues as president and chief executive officer and is responsible for the overall operations of the company. David Packard continues as board chairman and, with Hewlett, will have prime responsibilaity for policy setting and for long-range planning and development.

In announcing the organizational changes, Hewlett noted that Hewlett-Packard, a major electronics manufacturer, now has annual sales exceeding $800 million, employs 29,000 people, and sells more than 3,000 different products to customers throughout the world. He said the new organizational realignment "will enable the company to continue to grow within a structure suitable for the effective management of a larger and more complex operation."

Electric Co. Income Is Lower

New England Electric System reports consolidated net income for the first eight months of 1974 was $20,342,000 equal to $1.20 per share compared with $25,911,000 and $1.65 on 1,250.000 fewer shares for the same period last year. Earnings per share for the twelve months ended August 31, 1974 were $1.90, not including the gain from the sale of our gas subsidiaries.

Earnings this year have been affected by the nation-wide efforts to conserve energy, unusually temperate weather, spiraling inflation and a one-month lag in recovering increased fuel costs. In addition, our production costs increased in August principally because nuclear units were temporarily out of service, the planned generation from which had to be replaced by more expensive fossil fuel.

Dr. Marino Chairman

Lowell Technological Institute hosts a major meeting of engineering educators on Oct. 11 and 12, President Everett V. Olsen has announced.

The campus will be the site of the 52nd annual meeting of the American Society for Engineering Education, New England section, and 50 schools will be represented.

Keynote speakers include Cornelius Wandmacher, president of the American Society for Engineering Education, and Francis M. Staszesky, executive vice president of the Boston Edison Comapny.

Contemporary education techniques and controversies are among the topics to be discussed at the two day conference. The facilities of the new L.T.I. buildings, Everett V. Olsen Hall, and the Louis Olney Science Center will be used for the educational conference.

Dr. Pasquate Marino of the L.T.I. Graduate School is serving as chairman of the ASEE group this year.

In addition, submittal of the following is suggested to help understanding, but is not required: location of existing buildings on abutting property; major site features, such as existing stone walls, fences, buildings, large trees, rock ridges and outcroppings, swamps and water bodies and areas likely to be subject to the Wetlands Protection Act; and a locus map showing the boundary and street configuration of the subdivision in relation to surrounding streets.

The Planning Board will notify the Board of Health, the Andover Department of Public Works, and all abutters that a preliminary plan has been filed and is available for viewing in the Planning Board office.

During discussion of the Preliminary Plan, the complete information required for the Definitive Plan (Section III.C.2 Contents) and the financial arrangements (Section III.C, Performance Guarantee) will be developed.

The Planning Board may give such Preliminary Plan its approval with or without modification. Such approval does not constitute approval of a subdivision but does facilitate the procedure in securing final approval of the Definitive Plan. The preliminary plan of any subdivision containing more than ten lots should be drawn to scale of 1"=100'; if containing fewer lots should be drawn to scale of 1"=40'.

Whether or not a preliminary plan is submitted to the Planning Board, it is desirable for information such as requested above to be submitted to the Board of Health during the early planning stages of the subdivision."

profit conservation organization under the laws of the Commonwealth; assent by the receiving organization required prior to approval of the plan.

Green areas may, with Planning Board approval, be sold with specified house lots provided they are restricted by deed from all future building. However, every effort should be made to lay out the subdivision in such a manner that this residual land is in large parcels and performs a signigicant function as open space for the entire subdivision or for the Town. AMEND SECTION V.C.2.b. by adding a new second paragraph as follows:

"Side underdrains shall be installed on both sides of all streets except in fill sections, and connected to the surface drainage system. In circumstances where groundwater table is not within 4 feet of finished grade and each linear foot of under drain would serve a surface drainage area of not more than 20 square feet, or in other circumstances which would render such underdrains superfluous, the Department of Public Works may waive such requirement."

AMEND SECTION V.C.2. by adding a new paragraph as follows:

"e. Limitations - No building permit for any residence will be approved or issued until an individual lot grading plan as specified in Section III.C.2.d. has been approved and filed with the Board of Health."

Trees to be planted shall be at least two inches in trunk diameter (diameter at 5' above grade) and shall not be planted within four feet of the nearest sideline of the road layout. The specie and variety of the trees to be planted shall be approved by the Tree Department or its delegate.

AMEND SECTION V by deleting Section V.C.4. in its entirety and adding to Section V a new paragraph j as follows:

"j. Record Plan of Utilites

An accurate record plan and profile shall be submitted to the Department of Public Works after completion of the construction. The plan shall show the center line profile as constructed, the location and elevation of all underground utilities with the rim and invert grades of sewer and drain lines. Ties to all electric and telephone vaults and junction boxes, gas shutoffs and drips, water gates and each individual water service shutoff and sewer stub shall be shown. The accuracy of such record plan shall be certified by a registered land surveyor."

Many Uses For Green Tomatoes

Home gardeners with a surplus of green tomatoes need not lose the race with the frost, the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture (MDA) points out this week.

Green tomatoes can be used in many ways, the most common being as green tomato relish or old-fashioned piccalilli. But how much relish can one family consume?

That may depend upon the available supply of canning jars and tops, says the MDA. Some supplies are available, but finding them may be tough. The jar industry has admitted to falling far behind the current demand.

The fact is that green tomatoes, picked when nearly mature, will keep rather a long time when stored between 55 and 60 degrees . . . and will indeed ripen slowly. If you save only those free of blemishes, and hold them at a constant temperature - not below 55 - and inspect them weekly - you'll get a surprising number of ripe tomatoes as time goes on.

Keeping them at higher temperatures will ripen them faster.

Fried green tomatoes are an excellent dish. Slice tomatoes a little less than half-an-inch, dredge in flour or bread crumbs, and fry in a bit of fat until brown. Season to taste - and enjoy!

Pickled tomatoes have their devotees, too, and they need no canning. What they do need is a large crock with a cover, and someone about two generations back with a good old-fashioned recipe. Most modern cookbooks ignore this old world delicacy, so you'll have to find your own sources. Salt, strong vinegar, garlic and spices all get into the act, with the finished product much akin to the pickle barrel in the old general store.

Regardless of how you use them, says the MDA, tomatoes must be picked before the first frost. Frost damage shows up as water-soaked areas, with skin no longer firm and shiny.

Tomato farmers in central and western Massachusetts suffered some frost loss last week. Areas nearer the coast fared better, and many home gardeners are still ripening ttheir tomatoes on the vine.

Apples from Bay State orchards are in heavy supply this week, with prices reasonable. Macs, Cortlands, Opalescents and Red Gravensteins predominate.

Flu Clinic For Elderly On Oct. 23

The Andover Board of Health will hold an Influenza (FLU) Vaccination Clinic for Andover Senior Residents over Sixty years of age who have not been vaccinated against flu this year. There will be no fee charged at the clinic.

The vaccine will be given under the supervision of Dr. William O'Reilly.

WHEN: 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 23.

WHERE: East Junior High School Cafeteria.

(People walking should use driveway between Doherty and East Junior High School, enter side entrance and go downstairs and to the left. - - Automobiles use the same driveway and park in the parking area between Doherty and East Junior High School.)

Any person who is allergic to eggs, chickens or feathers SHOULD NOT have flu vaccine. Any acute respiratory disease or other active infection is sufficient reason for postponing immunization.

Senior residents who wish to have the flu vaccine on Wednesday, Oct. 23 are requested to call The Haven (475-3968) and leave their names by Oct. 4. The vaccine is fairly expensive and not returnable and this will be an indication of the numbers requesting immunization so the Board of Health may purchase sufficient vaccine for the clinic.

aide," was Mrs. Katherine Leitch of Andover.

Dr. Seifert said that Mrs. Leitch was chosen after some 16 candidates had been considered. Now serving as a special needs substitute, she holds a master's degree and has received a waiver from the State Department of Special Education until she receives her certificate.

Mrs. Jane Tibbetts of Andover, a graduate of the University of Bridgeport in 1970, who's now working toward her master's degree at Lowell State, was named a resource aide at East Jr. High. She previously taught grades seven and eight at St. Elizabeth's School in Ozone Park, N.Y.

A promotional transfer, from secretary of the Grade 10 Reading Department to secretary to the pupil personnel administrator of Chapter 766, was granted to Mrs. Eleanor Campbell.

Vacancy

persons have indicated their interest in the position to the committee, and he urged others who might be interested to contact himself or Selectman Chairman Milton Greenberg.

Griggs said those persons he has heard from include Pasquale Marino, John Johnson, David Ahouse, Mrs. Bernardine Coburn, Richard Hubbell, Tom Keane, Lester McDowell, and David Hopwood.

In other action Tuesday night, the School Committee voted to keep the 180-day school calendar for the time being, while looking into the possibility of making Dr. Martin Luther King's Jan. 15 birthday a school holiday, if it is a national holiday.

The State Board of Education has handed local systems the option of going to an instructional hour calendar, that would allow them to extend the hours of a day and cut back the number of school days, if necessary to conserve fuel.

The committee decided to review the situation later in the winter.

The committee also approved a list of community organizations which will be allowed to distribute materials, such as posters, through the schools. They include school pictures, Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds, Andona Society, Football League, Little League, Red Cross, American Field Service, savings and banking organizations, student insurance, Memorial Hall Library, Andover Police and Fire Department, 4-H Clubs, New England Diabetes and Benefit for the Kirk family.

Signing of the teacher's contract, which has now been approved by both the school committee and the Andover Education Association, was postponed Tuesday because of a technicality.

Planners

area and the installation of sufficient subsurface sanitary systems.

An eight inch water line which is to be extended to the Gould Road area, if looped to the proposed complex, would just about meet fire safety standards, it was pointed out by Public Works Director Robert McQuade. The contractor, however, has not as yet indicated how the loop would be extended, whether at his cost or the town's.

In the planning board report to be given to town meeting, the disapproval is based on the water extension, no assurance from state health authorities at this time on the proposed sanitary system, and the effect of the overall development on the town.

The planners indicated there is no easement shown on the plans as presented for a water line extension and adds that the present water supply will not provide adequate fire protection, even with an extension of the proposed new eight-inch main.

Approval of the sewerage system by the state board of health should be assured before such a final step is taken the planners state, and note that the approval has not as yet been obtained.

Finally, the board notes, "development of this magnitude could have a significant and large impact on the demand for town services and facilities."

The planning board supported the development of the apartment area as previously proposed and developed due to its accessibility to the state highway and a commercial establishment (Howard Johnson) nearby.

These conditions made the particular area unsuitable for single family development.

"However, the same conditions do not apply in this case and the parcel sought for rezoning here is well adapted to single family development and is close to an already established single family neighborhood."

While the selectmen Monday night took no official position on the proposed article, the members indicated that they individually might speak in opposition to the rezoning, based on the additional 70 buildings and 294 units.
